Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

greatly strengthened my throat, cleared up my voice, and took away the tendency for every cold to go to my lungs. Last year I had a bad attack of la grippe. The only medicine I took was from this bottle, and I came out all right. I know it's good, too, for asthma, bronchitis, pneumonia, croup. There are many substitutes and imitations. Beware of them! Be sure you get Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Two sizes. Large and small bottles. Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., U.S.A.

LAST NAVAL OFFICER OF PERRY SURVIVORS DEAD

Rear-Admiral Beardslee Was Well Known to Many People in Hawaii--His Naval Career.

(Afternoon Associated Press Cablegrams.)

AUGUSTA, Georgia, Nov. 11.

Rear-Admiral Beardslee died here today after a short illness.

The Late Rear-Admiral Beardslee.

The death of Rear-Admiral Lester Anthony Beardslee, U. S. N., retired, removes from life one of the best known of the men who helped to make the American navy famous. Beardslee had led a very strenuous life and had seen much service. He was the last survivor of the officers who accompanied Commodore Perry on his famous mission to Japan in 1853.

Beardslee was born in Little Falls, New York, on Feb. 1, 1836. He entered the navy at the age of fourteen and six years later graduated from the naval academy. He won promotion through the regular channels up to the time of the Civil War. In 1853 the famous Perry expedition went to Japan. Beardslee was then a cadet on board of the Plymouth. In 1863 as executive officer of the monitor Nantucket he participated in the attack on the Confederate works at Charleston and in October of the following year was on the United States warship Wachusett which chased the Confederate steamer Florida into the port of Bahia, Brazil. While the rebel vessel was under the protection of Brazil the federal ship entered the harbor and put a prize crew, commanded by Beardslee, aboard. The latter later brought the prize to the United States.

In 1870 Beardslee took the tug Palos to China, carrying on her the first United States flag through the Suez Canal, which had only been completed late in the previous year.

While commanding the U. S. S. Jamestown in 1879-80 in Alaskan waters he discovered, surveyed and named Glacier Bay.

Beardslee did not become a Rear-Admiral until 1895 but from 1894 to 1897 he commanded the naval forces on the Pacific station and during that time became well known in Hawaii. He was here on the Philadelphia then, and has passed through here at different times since.

Early in 1901 he spent sometime in Japan as the representative of the United States at the unveiling of the Perry Monument.

Admiral Beardslee retired from active service on reaching the age of 62 on Feb. 1, 1898. He had many warm personal friends in Honolulu and he himself had a very kindly feeling for the islands. When here in 1900 he said: "I think I came to Honolulu more to get an alligator pear than for any other reason. I could not get one that tasted just right in San Francisco so I packed up my things and headed for Honolulu."

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 11.—V. A. Vetlesen has been appointed postmaster at Wailuku, Maui.

SALT LAKE, Utah, Nov. 11.—The striking miners have been granted a ten per cent. increase in wages.

BUTTE, Mont., Nov. 11.—Twenty-one thousand workmen among the striking miners returned to work today.

PARIS, France, Nov. 11.—The rumor that the revolutionists have captured San Domingo and installed Jimenez as President is not confirmed.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 11.—Very little work was done in either House of Congress today. In the Senate the time up to the noon adjournment was taken up with the introduction of bills and receiving petitions. No business was done in the House of Representatives.

PARIS, France, Nov. 11.—American Ambassador Porter and Minister of Foreign Affairs Delcasse held a conference today on the situation at Panama. The conference was harmonious and it is authoritatively stated that France is well satisfied with the course taken by the American Government in its attitude toward Colombia and the revolutionary Panama Government.

BOGOTA, Colombia, Nov. 11.—A mass meeting was held in Bogota today at which demands were made for a new Government. Recent events in Panama have stirred the Colombians to a high state of excitement. The Government is held responsible for the failure of the canal treaty and consequent loss of Panama and all benefits to be derived from the canal.

ASHFORD PULLS THE HOLE IN OVER HIS HEAD

Attorney General Andrews yesterday received the following apology from C. W. Ashford. It is curious as combining a contradiction and a confirmation of the newspaper reports of his reckless talk in court the previous day for which he apologizes. This is the letter:

Personal. KAPOLANI BUILDING Honolulu November 11, 1903. Hon. Lorin Andrews, Attorney General, Honolulu.

My Dear Sir: I am incorrectly reported in the papers concerning what I said before Judge Gear yesterday when presenting my charges for investigation by the Grand Jury. I did not say that "the Attorney General and one of his deputies are accused in that paper," but in response to a suggestion by Mr. Peters that such matters should have been submitted to the Attorney General, did say, (and I regret having said it, because it was unnecessary, not because it was untrue,) that "my information was that the Attorney General and one of his deputies had actively assisted in coaching, upon his cross-examination, one of the men accused of attempted false personation and perjury." If you have not seen the paper I handed to Judge Gear, I still feel at liberty to assure you that neither you nor your deputy is mentioned therein. I thought it unnecessary to mention either of them, and still, it was unnecessary for me to have made the remark I did make in Court, and I repeat my regret that I made it, because no one more sincerely than I, would lament either an unjust accusation against you or your office, on the one hand, or, on the other hand, the fact that you or your deputies should be justly accused of any infraction of the election laws. I am unable to believe that you would willfully violate the laws providing for purity of elections, and my personal regard for, and confidence in, you, is the cause of my regret above expressed, and of my belief that you are not personally involved in any offenses that may have been committed.

I trust that our hitherto pleasant and cordial personal and professional relations may not be disturbed by the incident above mentioned, and beg to remain, Yours very sincerely, (Signed) C. W. ASHFORD.

In addition to the foregoing, Mr. Ashford writes to the Bulletin impugning

Varicocele Ruins the Lives of Thousands of Men

That's what's dragging your life out. That's what is making you so tired, so listless and stupid. That's what is robbing you of your strength, your nerve force, your ambition. It is draining the very sap out of your body and will make a wreck of you in time. Cure it now before it goes too far on you.

I Guarantee a Cure

I have cured thousands after the knife had failed. Don't be cut and ruined. Let me cure you naturally. My Electric Belt works directly upon the swollen veins by a special attachment. It removes the dead blood and gives vigorous circulation. It is a certain cure.

Carson City, Nev.

DR. McLAUGHLIN—Dear Sir: I can truthfully state that I have not felt the least bit of pain since I commenced your treatment, and the varicocele is, to all appearances, cured. I think the Belt a wonder, and its convenience of application remarkable. I gladly recommend the treatment to all sufferers.

WM. DECKER, JR.

It will cure you, too. Come to me now, and it will be the happiest day of your life. If you can't call, send for my book. It will tell you if you are afflicted. Consultation free.

DR. M. G. McLAUGHLIN, the accuracy of the published reports to lead up to this further apology:

"I do not believe, and have not intended to charge, that the Attorney General was or could be knowingly guilty of assisting in the violation of the election laws.—my confidence in the incumbent of that office is too sincere to admit of any such belief on my part I feel that justice to Mr. Andrews demands this statement from me."

Fine Works of Art.

There will be sold at Morgan's auction rooms, Kaahumanu street, at 10 o'clock this morning a very rare collection of paintings, etchings and chalk drawings by such famous artists as Tom Nast, Melton Prior, Constable, Landseer and others. These works of art are now on view at the auction rooms. It is certain that they will bring very big prices at the sale tomorrow. The individual pieces are as follows:

Pen and Ink by Tom Nast. Chalk Drawing, by Tom Nast. Chalk Drawing, by Melton Prior. Cattle, oil, by T. S. Cooper. At the Stream, water color, by Constable. Marshes, water color, by Hugo Fisher. Pen and Ink, by Frank A. Nankivell. Ponclana Regia, oil, by Hitchcock. Sketches, water color, by T. Mellins. Etching, by Thomas Landseer. Mezzo Tint, signed proof, Execution of Montrose. Mezzo Tint, Scotch Cattle. Mezzo Tint, Wounded Hound, W. T. Davey, A. R. A. Cypress Point, Monterey, water color. Yosemite Valley, oil, F. Davey. Live Oaks, California, C. Graham.

Undaunted: They dug the bruised and battered form of the inventor out from under the ruins of his flying machine. "I want to say," he whispered, hoarsely, "that my invention is going to be a magnificent success!" Waving the surgeons away, he continued to talk to the reporters.—Chicago Tribune.

Miss osting—"It couldn't have been very comfortable automobiling along that back road yesterday." Miss Flurtey—"Oh! did you see Mr. Huggard and me?" Miss Bosting—"Yes, and when I saw you, you were oscillating from one side to the other." Miss Flurtey—"Oh! that's a fib! The oscillating was all on his side."—Philadelphia Press.

IMPORTANT FACTS.

Deaths from what is called heart disease, or heart failure, seem to be increasing among us. The only true heart failure is a mechanical derangement of the valves of the heart from previous inflammation of its lining. One may have this and live out all his days. It is not this malady that is dropping people in their tracks as though by pistol shots. Oh! no. What then? It is a symptom, often manifested in the heart, of a general condition. The actual cause of the sudden ending of so many lives is nervous prostration, anemia or poverty of the blood, general debility and the poor digestion and assimilation of food. The nerves tremble and ache because they are half starved, and the heart weakens because the nerves do not give it the needed impulse. A person with a vitalized and well-nourished body will never suffer from heart trouble; and the remedy to accomplish this is the effective food medicine

WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION. It is palatable as honey and contains all the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, extracted by us from fresh cod livers, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. It purifies the blood, stimulates every organ and builds up the body as mechanics build a house. Dr. A. D. Garay, says: "I have obtained very satisfactory results from prescribing it in cases of Anemia, Chlorosis, Neurasthenia and other diseases that leaves the patient with a very weak constitution and poor blood; it always improved them and increased their weight." It is a product of the most advanced medical knowledge and experience. "You cannot be disappointed in it." It is effective from the first dose. Sold by chemists here and everywhere.

THEATRICAL

One of the most successful plays to be presented by the Walter Sanford Company of Players, is the powerful dramatic play, "My Jack." It had a successful run of 320 nights at the Drury Lane Theatre, London, and also a long run in New York City at the Fourteenth St. Theatre. It is in four acts and ten scenes, which were painted by John & Louis Young, the leading scenic artists of New York City. Notable among the different scenes are: The village of Falmouth on the Cornish coast, overlooking the English Channel. The ruined mill house; The Deck of the English Iron clad, "Sea Gull". The British Encampment in the Sudan; and the sun scorched African Desert. Benj. Landeck, the author, was a warm personal friend of Henry Stanley, the great African Explorer, and it was Mr. Stanley himself, who suggested the great desert scene. The box office at the Orpheum opens this morning at 9 o'clock for the sale of seats. The opening play being "The Power of Gold."

THE HOUSE WHERE I WAS BORN.

'Round the little old deserted house the noisome weeds are growing, And the wind unkindly wanders through the broken eastern doors; Every rafter, beam, and sash the finger-marks of Time is showing, And Decay is running riot o'er the rubbish-covered floor. Here a rotting pillar staggers; there an aged beam is falling; Over yonder sags the mantel-piece, dejected and forlorn; There is helplessness pathetic and the voice of Old Age calling From each crumbling bit of mortar in the house where I was born.

Here before the ancient fireplace, where the dust of years is lying, I first saw the future pictured as I watched the embers glow; Here I lay in boyish dreaming, while the shadows flitting, flying, Were a hundred ghosts of fancy, as they wandered to and fro; Little knew I of the universe which spread itself around me In a canopy of azure and a sea of waving corn; All my world was on the hearthstone where my childhood dreaming found me; I was king—and my dominion was the house where I was born.

They were happy days—God rest them!—for my feet had ne'er been straying Where the soul is bruised and broken by the brambles of turmoil; Ne'er the long years of anxiety my temples had been graying, Nor my weary form bowed earthward 'neath the heavy hand of toil; Earth was then a wonder palace. From the eastern window gazing I beheld the new moon hanging like a shining silver horn; And far down upon the heavens bright the evening star was blazing; Both were shining, just to please me, o'er the house where I was born.

I have passed from it forever. All the wonder and glamour Of the little eastern window from the world have worn away; I have seen its disappointment; I have heard its empty clamor; And the house I once thought wonderful—how pitiful today! But who knows?—Perhaps eternity may bring a realizing Of the things my fancy painted over childhood's early morn; Any, mayhap, the gift of prophecy was, after all, arising In my heart when I lay dreaming in the house where I was born. —LOWELL OTUS REESE.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough and influenza. It has become famous for its cures of these diseases over a large part of the civilized world. The most flattering testimonials have been received, giving accounts of its good works; of the aggravating and persistent coughs it has cured; of severe colds that have yielded promptly to its soothing effects; and of the dangerous attacks of croup it has cured, often saving the life of the child. The extensive use of it for whooping cough has shown that it robs that disease of all dangerous results. It is especially prized by mothers because it contains nothing injurious, and there is not the least danger in giving it, even to babies. It always cures and cures quickly. Beeson, Smith & Co., Ltd., wholesale agents, sell it.

A Lucky Find.

Great excitement prevailed at the fish market early this morning, when a monster shark, the largest ever seen here, was brought in by some Jap fishermen, who immediately proceeded to cut the carcass up. The dorsal fin of the sea monster, measured nearly seventy-two inches, and will be presented to the Bishop Museum. But the bystanders nearly went wild when upon opening the stomach of the shark a variety of ship's instruments and sailors' clothes were found, upon examining the lining of the stomach there were also found several cards explaining the merits of the Douglass Patent Closet, sold by Bath the Plumber, and guaranteed against leakage, and the annoyance of running water.
